Usage principles

Use green as the trust and platform base, with gold reserved for premium emphasis, high-priority calls to action, key badges, and select highlighted controls. Gold should feel intentional and premium, not overly dominant.

Avoid flashy gradients, crypto-style visuals, or overusing gold in routine controls. The interface should remain calm, serious, and highly readable.

Logo and UI direction

Use the uploaded MinbarLive logo as the source of truth. Preserve its proportions, clear space, and contrast. Prefer placing it on clean light backgrounds or on dark/brand surfaces where the gold and green remain clearly visible.

CTA guidance

Primary CTA

Priority CTA

Secondary

Recommended CTA hierarchy: green for standard primary actions, gold for premium or especially important actions such as publish, upgrade, featured actions, or key completion flows. Secondary controls should remain neutral.

Recommended tone

Elegant, calm, trustworthy, multilingual, accessibility-first, and operationally clear. The design should feel like a polished SaaS platform for serious institutions, not a flashy startup dashboard.
